Digital life

- Digital life has become a part of our daily routine
- It Gives us a Lot of benefits, such as being in touch with people far from us, staying informed, or even reading
- BUT... All that glitters is not gold*

Let's see the risks:

Irresponsible use of social media

In the common usage of social media there are some problems:

- People posting without giving it due consideration
- Uncontrolled access by users of all ages
- Addiction caused by:
 - the scroll algorithm
 - the uncontrolled desire for likes
- inability to relate due to excessive use of it

Cyberbullying

- Cyberbullying is a phenomenon that stems from “classic” bullying.
- In the era of social media, it often happens that individuals, driven by hidden vulnerabilities, assume the role of bullies behind a screen. However, in real life, they may appear quiet and kind.
- An important term that has emerged in recent years is “keyboard warriors”

Fake news

In these days, thanks to technological advancements, information and misinformation spread at an extraordinary speed.

We live in a society driven by news and viral content, making it crucial to differentiate between what is real and what isn't: between a news or a fake (created only to receive clicks and visibility)

Violation of the privacy

With the constant evolution of technology, safeguarding personal information becomes difficult. Everyone should employ strong passwords, enable two-factor authentication and pay attention to what it's being visited.

If it doesn't happen there are serious possibilities to be scammed and to expose data, as the bank account
